The Jamnalal Bajaj Uchit Vyavahar Puraskar (Awards for Fair Business Practices) is one of CFBP's flagship programmes. It sets the benchmark for companies/organisations aspiring to achieve the marked distinction of practicing and promoting Fair Business Practices. Constituted in 1988, today in its 34th year, it has seen many leading lights covet, win and set an example as to how to be a responsible corporate citizen, and above all, how best to establish customer satisfaction.

Each year, the Awards procedure goes through a rigorous independent vetting analysis shortlisting the most deserving candidates tested on the anvil of objective criteria, which includes corporate social responsibility, employee motivation and environmental sustainability amongst others. As the planet gets more competitive, doing business fairly becomes the sine qua non of our very survival. CFBP is conscious of that and the Jury members endeavour to highlight it very assertively each year.

Our heartiest congratulations to the Winners this year. We, at CFBP, extend a very warm welcome to you and your significant others to be a part of this prestigious function. Both Vineet and I humbly request you all and members of the business fraternity including the audience to revert with any feedback that you may have, and we shall strive harder to constantly improve our endeavours.

CFBP was launched on the Gandhi Jayanti Day in 1966 by stalwarts of business and industry of that era, such as JRD Tata, Ramkrishna Bajaj and others who realized that enlightened self-interest for business was linked to fair business practices.
